

THE HERALD.

JNO. P. BARRETT, Editor
CHARLES SUTTON, Associate Editor

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 16, 1881.

FIVE ladies graduated in the St. Louis College of Medicine last week with high honors. What next?

GOVERNOR David Meriwether has consented to stand for re-election as Representative from Jefferson county.

MR. BLAINE's appointment as Secretary of State made a vacancy in the Senate. Mr. Frye has been selected to fill the vacancy.

PRESIDENT HAYES' last act was to pardon a Kentuckian who was in the Illinois penitentiary for embezzlement of post-office funds.

DO NOT throw away your overcoat. Venner says we are to have two more snow storms and one more "cold dip." Is it never to cease?

Venner says the spring will be hot and dry, the summer cool and wet, the fall open and fine, and the winter mild and but few snowstorms.

THE Senate refused to confirm 87 of the nominations to office made by Returning Board Hayes during the time he was drawing Mr. Tilden's salary.

THE Democratic State Convention of Michigan refused to fuse with the Greenbackers, made a straight Democratic platform and nominated a straight ticket.

LIEUT. VENNER, of the navy, and one Lt. P. Blackburn, Governor of Kentucky, are having a little dispute as to relative truthfulness. We do hope the kettle has not called the pot black in this case.

A YOUNG man of Henderson, with a larger stock of patience than anything else, perhaps, has just finished smoking an ounce of White Burley tobacco seed. He finds in one ounce the sum of $35,875 seed.

MANY many years ago the present editor of the Cassville Courier stood around and watched Sam Gaines play marbles. The Courier man wasn't large enough to play with Sam. Nor is he yet. How sad.

IN Nebraska the law making powers have concluded that if saloons and drinking shops must be licensed they must be taxed enough to pay for the humures, paupers and criminals made thereby, and so have placed the license fee liquor by retail at $1,000.

A COMPARATIVELY small number of changes are to be made in the various departments of the Government at Washington except in the post-office department, which will be swept clean on account of previous mismanagement on the part of the Hayes officials.

BEN DELING's Franklin paper died, Ben Dering's Blue Grass Banner scarcely lived and now he has started another paper in Lexington known as the Daily Republican. If we're only religious we would dump ourselves down and pray to the good Lord to deliver the country from Ben Dering.

THE Legislature tendered a vote of thanks to Gen. Garfield for the appointment of Lincoln to the place of Secretary of War. We fear that it should at the same time have expressed its sympathy for the poor, poor people, at whose expense the said-tude-say young man was promoted to office.

LEADING members of both parties in New York have united in trying to find the forger of the Money letter, which created such a tumult last fall. Abram S. Hewitt has given $100 to the search and they are going to "punt the rascal down." They should take it before a Congressional committee and spend $20,000 as they have done with negro Whittaker's ears.

CENSUS bulletin No. 73 gives the number of males in the United States of 25,529,262 and of females at 24,631,284, or 88,298 more than males. A certain number of this stuff, although still young, is becoming terribly frightened at this state of things, and, like those of old, are inquiring, "Men and brethren, what shall I do to be saved?"

THE only reprehensible thing so far in the administration of Garfield is the speech made to the members of Hayes' cabinet: "I assure you, gentlemen, that it causes me some regret to part with your services." Garfield has been considered an honest man, but it this is not dishonesty, he does not deserve the respect of any one; and if it is dishonesty, how many can respect him? None, certainly.

INDIANA, by the grace of God, the free use of money and the imported nigger vote, elected Garfield to the office of President of the United States and now in the distribution of Cabinet offices and fat positions she does not get a snuff. This is too bad. When a state is disgraced as was Indiana, it is the quintessence of political ingratitude to be spurned from the broad entrance to official preferment.

A man of armed men went to the house of Mr. Veachel Flemon of Butler county, in the night recently, and calling him to the door attempted to shoot him. Finding out what was wanted he was very naturally thought it prudent to shut the door. The mob then began firing on the house. One of the balls struck one of their men on the other side of the house. They then left, taking the wounded man with them, but leaving his gun by the fence. Mr. Flemon recognized the gun as one belonging to one of his neighbors. But, after a judicious application of hemp and shot-guns.

DAVID HAYES says that he will act in the future as in the past, i.e., as he pleases and according to his sense of right. This is all right if he does not suffer his mind to be biased by his former Republican associations.

WE see an advertisement of a "Butter Powder" in some of our exchanges. The agent will consult his interest by staying away from Hartland. The butter, when you can get it, has enough power already to tumble a man forty feet on a dead level.

THE brave Boers of South Africa still hold out against the superior forces of the British army. It is a struggle for freedom, and the heart of every American should vibrate in sympathy with the people who are engaged in the glorious cause in that far-off land.

GARFIELD is a Christian, and it was hoped by a great many persons that we were to have a Christian administration, but in every account of the happenings of Washington you see that the affair would make a "glowing speech" from that ardent-heathen Bob Ingersoll.

THE Bowling Green grocers have organized a protective association, the object of which is to protect themselves from those drummers who sell at retail as well as at wholesale, and to prevent the selling of goods on credit to those who are thought not to be perfectly good pay.

HERE is what the local editor of the Bowling Green Democrat says when he means power: "That sometimes very useful, but more frequently dangerous thing called gunpowder." Why, a Western Indian would shoot you half-a-dozen times before you could get all that into your charger.

OUT of the total of about $11,000,000 river and harbor appropriations, the Mississippi, the Ohio, the Missouri, the Arkansas and Illinois rivers get $8,525,000. These are crosses, whose improvement is a vast advantage to the country's commerce, and every dollar appropriated in that direction will tell.

ON all the public men who have figured in the history of the country for years past none are more worthy of the admiration of every one than is Allen G. Thurman, late U. S. Senator from Ohio. Faithful, honest, vigilant and efficient in the highest degree, no lover of the American people can think of his retirement from public life save with feelings of the deepest regret. Of him it may well be said, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

WESTERN Indian would shoot you half-a-dozen times before you could get all that into your charger.

THE Czar of Russia was last Sunday in his carriage, and on his way home was assassinated by the nihilists. The deed was accomplished by filling heavy glass shells with dynamite and throwing them under the imperial carriage. When the first one exploded it took off the lower part of the carriage, but no one was hurt save one of the attendants. On hearing the report and the cries of the wounded man the carriage stopped and the Czar immediately alighted, when another shell was thrown, which exploded with terrible effect, tearing off his left foot and ankle, horribly mutilating his right leg, laming his body and tearing the left eye from its socket. He was instantly taken to the palace, where he died in an hour and a half. The assassins were arrested and placed in prison under a strong guard. The Czar was much loved by the greater portion of his subjects, and his soldiers actually worshipped him. The most intense excitement prevails over the whole of Russia, and a general uprising is feared. Our Government, as well as those of Europe, send dispatches expressive of the general sorrow of the people on being apprised of the horrible event. The late Czar's son will succeed to the throne under the title of Alexander III.

TO THE next Legislature belongs the Constitutional right to redistrict the State, and this right, unquestionably, will be used by the majority, for party purposes. Does it not seem reasonable, therefore, to believe that such a dispersion of Democratic majorities will be made as to preclude the possibility of Republican success for decade at least?

FOR instance, a Republican senator should be elected in the Senatorial district composed of the counties of Ohio, Butler and Monroe, and a Republican representative returned from each of these counties. It will be conclusive to the legislative majority that the three counties are permanently Republican in politics; there cannot exist the slightest doubt on the mind of any one that the Democratic legislature will institute to so manipulate the redistricting as to completely overshadow the Republican majority in the district by attaching each county to a county whose Democratic majority is so pronounced as to leave no doubt of success at any subsequent election.

Mr. Leslie Stevens, who has been attending school in Cincinnati, Ind., for several months past is home on a visit. He came to the Hotel French, as the hotel is a favorite with him, and he was noted for his extreme littleness of soul, narrowness of mind, and conspicuous lack of purpose for good and a proportionate over-supply for evil deeds. He was the continual dread of all his peaceful neighbors, and nothing but his extreme cowardice ever kept him from the commission of crimes within the cognizance of the law. The same traits which marked him in boyhood still cling to him in his mature years, and he is the same weak, good-for-nothing creature now as then, totally lacking the sympathy and fellow-feeling of the rest of mankind. As to such a thing as self-respect, he never had it, and indeed such is the composition of his physical and mental nature that he seems to have no desire for it. When he wants to borrow a paper, such is his peculiar timidity that he will go for it himself, lest some child who is compelled and yet ashamed to walk the earth by the appellation of father. The child, with a seemingly innate conception that there is something morally wrong in the action, goes with reluctance and seems to half hope that will be rebuked, and it is, goes back with a lighter heart and smiling countenance until it gets within sight of its father's face, when it again assumes that peculiar look common to those who are considered very contemptible. He has already communicated them to his paper in their column.

THE man who borrows a newspaper to keep from paying the publisher for it ought to be, as he generally is, regarded with contempt and as a sponge on society as he lives, and when he dies, sad to say, the prince of darkness has no hole in all the vast lake of torment that is sufficiently leathose into which to toss this abominable specimen of degraded corruption—this morbid, rotten, fungous excrecence on the fair stock of human kind. There is no place created or intended, real or imaginary, in time or eternity, which is designed for him and he must content himself with the fearful thought that his only fate is annihilation and that thus the most dreadful manner. Does this fit you?

THE following clipping from one of our exchanges shows the great respect in which Senator Beck is held by the entire Senate. Any talk about trifling a man who has so much influence is absurd and is not indulged in by those who have the interests of old Kentucky at heart: "A Washington special says

"About the last bill which became law in the last Congress was one to refund to the State of Kentucky some $20,000 for arming, equipping, and transporting troops during the war. It came to the Senate about 3 o'clock in the morning of the day of adjournment. Beck moved its passage. The question was asked, 'Has the bill been considered by a committee?' 'It has not,' said Senator Beck. 'My colleague will bear me testimony that I have been busy for three days in Conference Committee on appropriation bills. I say, though, this bill is a just one and should be passed.' Upon this statement of the Kentucky Senator the bill has passed.

THE man who borrows a newspaper to keep from paying the publisher for it ought to be, as he generally is, regarded with contempt and as a sponge on society as he lives, and when he dies, sad to say, the prince of darkness has no hole in all the vast lake of torment that is sufficiently leathose into which to toss this abominable specimen of degraded corruption—this morbid, rotten, fungous excrecence on the fair stock of human kind. There is no place created or intended, real or imaginary, in time or eternity, which is designed for him and he must content himself with the fearful thought that his only fate is annihilation and that thus the most dreadful manner. Does this fit you?

THE election in this county of a Republican sheriff, last August, must be abominated by all to have been purely partisan, and not the result of personal interest alone it got through."

DAVID HAYES says that he will act in the future as in the past, i.e., as he pleases and according to his sense of right. This is all right if he does not suffer his mind to be biased by his former Republican associations.

WE see an advertisement of a "Butter Powder" in some of our exchanges. The agent will consult his interest by staying away from Hartland. The butter, when you can get it, has enough power already to tumble a man forty feet on a dead level.

THE brave Boers of South Africa still hold out against the superior forces of the British army. It is a struggle for freedom, and the heart of every American should vibrate in sympathy with the people who are engaged in the glorious cause in that far-off land.

GARFIELD is a Christian, and it was hoped by a great many persons that we were to have a Christian administration, but in every account of the happenings of Washington you see that the affair would make a "glowing speech" from that ardent-heathen Bob Ingersoll.

THE Bowling Green grocers have organized a protective association, the object of which is to protect themselves from those drummers who sell at retail as well as at wholesale, and to prevent the selling of goods on credit to those who are thought not to be perfectly good pay.

HERE is what the local editor of the Bowling Green Democrat says when he means power: "That sometimes very useful, but more frequently dangerous thing called gunpowder." Why, a Western Indian would shoot you half-a-dozen times before you could get all that into your charger.

THE Czar of Russia was last Sunday in his carriage, and on his way home was assassinated by the nihilists. The deed was accomplished by filling heavy glass shells with dynamite and throwing them under the imperial carriage. When the first one exploded it took off the lower part of the carriage, but no one was hurt save one of the attendants. On hearing the report and the cries of the wounded man the carriage stopped and the Czar immediately alighted, when another shell was thrown, which exploded with terrible effect, tearing off his left foot and ankle, horribly mutilating his right leg, laming his body and tearing the left eye from its socket. He was instantly taken to the palace, where he died in an hour and a half. The assassins were arrested and placed in prison under a strong guard. The Czar was much loved by the greater portion of his subjects, and his soldiers actually worshipped him. The most intense excitement prevails over the whole of Russia, and a general uprising is feared. Our Government, as well as those of Europe, send dispatches expressive of the general sorrow of the people on being apprised of the horrible event. The late Czar's son will succeed to the throne under the title of Alexander III.

TO THE next Legislature belongs the Constitutional right to redistrict the State, and this right, unquestionably, will be used by the majority, for party purposes. Does it not seem reasonable, therefore, to believe that such a dispersion of Democratic majorities will be made as to preclude the possibility of Republican success for decade at least?

FOR instance, a Republican senator should be elected in the Senatorial district composed of the counties of Ohio, Butler and Monroe, and a Republican representative returned from each of these counties. It will be conclusive to the legislative majority that the three counties are permanently Republican in politics; there cannot exist the slightest doubt on the mind of any one that the Democratic legislature will institute to so manipulate the redistricting as to completely overshadow the Republican majority in the district by attaching each county to a county whose Democratic majority is so pronounced as to leave no doubt of success at any subsequent election.

Mr. Leslie Stevens, who has been attending school in Cincinnati, Ind., for several months past is home on a visit. He came to the Hotel French, as the hotel is a favorite with him, and he was noted for his extreme littleness of soul, narrowness of mind, and conspicuous lack of purpose for good and a proportionate over-supply for evil deeds. He was the continual dread of all his peaceful neighbors, and nothing but his extreme cowardice ever kept him from the commission of crimes within the cognizance of the law. The same traits which marked him in boyhood still cling to him in his mature years, and he is the same weak, good-for-nothing creature now as then, totally lacking the sympathy and fellow-feeling of the rest of mankind. As to such a thing as self-respect, he never had it, and indeed such is the composition of his physical and mental nature that he seems to have no desire for it. When he wants to borrow a paper, such is his peculiar timidity that he will go for it himself, lest some child who is compelled and yet ashamed to walk the earth by the appellation of father. The child, with a seemingly innate conception that there is something morally wrong in the action, goes with reluctance and seems to half hope that will be rebuked, and it is, goes back with a lighter heart and smiling countenance until it gets within sight of its father's face, when it again assumes that peculiar look common to those who are considered very contemptible. He has already communicated them to his paper in their column.

THE man who borrows a newspaper to keep from paying the publisher for it ought to be, as he generally is, regarded with contempt and as a sponge on society as he lives, and when he dies, sad to say, the prince of darkness has no hole in all the vast lake of torment that is sufficiently leathose into which to toss this abominable specimen of degraded corruption—this morbid, rotten, fungous excrecence on the fair stock of human kind. There is no place created or intended, real or imaginary, in time or eternity, which is designed for him and he must content himself with the fearful thought that his only fate is annihilation and that thus the most dreadful manner. Does this fit you?

THE election in this county of a Republican sheriff, last August, must be abominated by all to have been purely partisan, and not the result of personal interest alone it got through."

An Honest Man.

SOME time ago a notice appeared in these columns denouncing J. B. Chapman, of Madison, Indiana, as a swindler and dead-beat. Later developments have shown that we were wrong and, perhaps, a trifle too hasty in this expression of Mr. C., the circumstances of whose case are as follows: Some time during last summer we made a contract with him to do some advertising which we had and when we called on him for the pay could hear nothing from him and he had given a long list of references we supposed that they too were invented to give him a good record. We then consulted with a lawyer and he advised us to sue him for the amount of six thousand dollars which was the amount of our bill. He was easily engaged saying out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving to slip the implement, he fell, revolting saw, and quick as the flash of death last Saturday under the following terrible circumstances:

He was easily engaged sawing out work at a circular saw, his perch being elevated above the implement. One of his feet cleaving

THE HERALD.

LUCIUS R. HARRITT, LOCAL EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 16, 1881.

OUR AGENTS.

Two Howling persons are authorized to receive subscriptions and renewals, advertising in the HERALD, orders for job work, etc., etc.

JOHN T. MARTIN, Rosine,
WILL COOPER, Croyeville,
DR. W. M. TAYLOR, McHenry,
JOHN W. MATHENY, Rockport.

DAVID HUGGINS, Buford,
JOSEPH T. SMITH, Jr., Fordsville,
A. S. ALEX, Sulphur Springs,
R. P. MAGAN, Magoffin,
EDO. M. HOWE, Peralvo,
DR. G. H. SANDERS, Centerport,
JNO. T. NEAL, Campsville,
T. J. BUCH, Morganburg,
W. H. MURKIN, Beaver Dam.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce N. J. HARRIS, of Madison county, a candidate for the office of State Senator in this, the 8th Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Ohio, Madison, and Butler, added to the action of the Honorable party.

We are authorized to announce Judge THOMAS C. COOPER, of Madison county, a candidate for State Senator in this, the 8th Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Butler, Madison, and Ohio, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Judge VAN B. BRAUNS, a candidate to represent Ohio County in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to a Democratic Convention, should one be called.

PERSONAL.

W. A. Bentley, of Rockport, was in town Monday.

Mrs. Mary Clark, of South Carrollton, is visiting relatives in this place.

David Johnson, of Pleasant Ridge, was in town several days this week.

Mr. W. A. McGill, who has been quite sick for several days past, is again out.

John C. Layton and wife, Mrs. Maggie Haydon, were in town last Sunday.

Mrs. M. J. Bentley, of Rockport, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. W. Anderson.

Mr. J. Taylor Coffman, of Island Station, was in town last Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Mary Taylor, one of Hartford's most amiable young ladies, is visiting relatives in Owensboro.

Our old friend M. J. Rutledge, of Rockport, called to see us last Monday and renewed his subscription to the HERALD.

Frank Timpin, telegraph operator and ticket agent at Beaver Dam and T. J. King, assistant superintendent of the King Coal Mines, were in Sunday.

Mr. S. W. Anderson, proprietor of Anderson's Razors, accompanied by his wife, will leave today for the east to purchase spring goods. They will be absent about three weeks.

Miss Lizzie Walker, daughter of Hon. Elijah Walker, of Hartford, who has been in the city for the last two weeks on a visit to the family of Mr. P. Thomas, accompanied by Mr. Thomas, paid a short visit to the sister of the latter in Auburn this week, returning Friday morning. Boating Green Poem.

G. A. Woodson, Esq., representing Messrs. Peters Brothers, wholesale dealers in hardware and cutlery, New York, was in town several days last week the guest of the Hartford House. Mr. Woodson is representing one of the largest and best houses in New York, and carries the finest display of samples in his line of goods ever exhibited in this place. We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. W. while here and found him to be quite a pleasant and agreeable gentleman.

—Chickens at the Red Front.

—The old jail begins to look like a palace.

—Buy your groceries at the Red Front.

—Dr. Mott's Liver Pills are the best cathartic regulators.

—The sixty per cent. of the school fund has arrived.

—Durno's Catherill Sulfur cures catarrh and all afflictions of the mucous membrane.

—Wood Ashley, who lived in the Cromwell prebend, died last Thursday of consumption.

—10 lbs. of the "Talk of the Town" just received at the Red Front. Try it. There's none like it.

—A Sewing Machine for sale, good as new, a bargain. Call at one on J. P. Barrett, HERALD, 7-7-1.

Rheumatism is the most terrible disease that has ever afflicted humanity, yet it instantly yields to the powerful drugs that Kendall's Spavin Cure is composed of. See their advertisement.

—A two-year-old son of Mr. J. W. Haggard, living near Rosine, fell down stairs last Monday, receiving injuries from which it should be if he recovers. His hand and back were much bruised.

—Rev. J. M. Peay, of South Carrollton, met with quite a serious accident some days since. He was driving a nail in a board and the nail flying out struck him in the eye puncturing the ball, and inflicting, if not destroying his sight.

—You don't want muthin' to drink, nor no cigars nor muthin', do you? If you do, there is no place in Hartford or any other place where you can get better liquor or cigars than at Lou Hill's saloon on Market street. He keeps a choice assortment of the best drinks to be found anywhere. (Go and see him.)

—The senior editor of the Hartford HERALD has got the measles, and the junior editor is beset by an alleged preacher. Both are thought to be hopelessly affiliated. Messenger & Examiner.

—Alleged preacher! Ha! Ha! Brother B. go over and chew him up as you haven't tempted to do this scribble.

New goods, at R. P. Howe's,
Horse and Jock bills printed at this office.

—In those lovely declines, at R. P. Howe's.

Turnips, potato's, &c., at the Red Front.

—Several new students matriculated at Hartford College this week.

Eggs, butter and all kinds of country produce wanted at the Red Front.

—Misses Mattie Tamm and Nevada Brown, of Coal Springs, are new pupils of Hartford College this week.

George W. Bunker left Sunday for Glasgow to attend the trial of Hunt for the Mammoth Cave stage robbery.

—The largest and finest assortment of gent's and boys' spring clothing ever brought to this market, at R. P. Howe's.

We would advise parents of young ladies to look well to the hinges of their front gates, as the time approached when loves linger thereat.

The sixty per cent. draft of the school fund is now ready to be paid out, will be seen by the notice of Commissioner Howe in this issue.

—Joe Coffey, who lived in the No. Creek neighborhood was adjudged a lunatic, one day last week, and taken to the asylum at Hopkinsville, by sheriff Smith.

—The proprietors of Kendall's Spavin Cure challenge the whole world to produce its equal as a cure for rheumatism or any other deep-seated pain. It stands without a rival.

We are authorized to say that it is the parties that were on a "tear" Saturday night will come forward and pay $100 apiece they will, so far as the supervisor of the streets is concerned, be unable to be up in a short time.

—James Wallace, of No Creek, matriculated in Hartford College Monday. Mr. Wallace is a graduate of the Commercial College of Evansville, and has been teaching penmanship for some time past.

—The establishing of a slave factory at Elm Lick is no longer a question. Messes. Hess & Metz, of Louisville have made arrangements to that effect and are at work getting ready for operations. This will give the citizens of that vicinity an opportunity to dispose of their oak timber.

Messrs. Seminon, Metz & Co., after close of sales Monday last, report: During the week our market has been more active for all green river tobacco, with prices 25 to 30 cents stronger. Sales during the week, 13,300; month, 27,867; year, 134,611. Receipts '80 against 1500 same week in last year.

—Josie, a little three-year-old son of Leonard Bean, of this place, met with quite an accident last Saturday. His uncle, Parvin Bean, a boy of some ten or twelve summers, was on top of the coal-house putting up a matin chair and threw a hatched downwhip struck the little boy below the right eye inflicting a severe wound.

—Arthur, the little bright eyed son of J. P. Sanderlin, Esq., died last Saturday of affection of the liver. He was a year and eight months old, and was quite a spightly child up to his illness. Never was any one volume so complete as an aid in getting an education.

—Escaped Jolt.

—Monday night, 7th inst., about 11 o'clock, four prisoners broke out of the Calumet jail by picking through the wall. They went to Ballard's saloon and ordered drinks and got some to take with them and warned him against giving the alarm until they got started, and lit out. Alarm was given and pursuit made. Their names were Cap Jones, charged with assault with intent to kill; Bad Malin, burglar; Newton Frazer, to satisfy judgment and the other fellow's name not known. Two of them, Newton Frazer and the unknown, were arrested next day at Sacramento. The others had not been arrested up to last account.

—Military Hop.

Captain Henry McHenry gave his Company of Cadets a hop last Friday night at Masonic Hall. Each cadet displayed the gallantry of a soldier by sending a card and accompanying a little lady. The cadets were full uniform and the little girls were handsomely dressed in party costumes. Prof. Ludwig's string band dispensed music, and both before and after the shuntings refreshments the little folks passed the time in keeping step to the violin's twang. A large number of spectators were present to witness the occasion. During the evening the company appeared on dress parade and were highly complimented by those present. In this connection we will say that Capt. McHenry deserves much credit for his energy in organizing and driving this Company, having them as he has, in so short a time, under perfect discipline.

—Clydeport Society.

This society meets for debate and to do business every Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

—Officers.

W. P. Roll, President; Wm. Alexander, Vice President; J. W. Bishop, Secretary; Cleo Conrad, Critic; Henry Eskridge, Librarian & Treasurer; J. S. Blakely, Attorney; D. B. Binkley, Marshal; W. J. Dunn, Door Keeper.

Proceedings for March 12th.—After essays, declamation and reading follow the regular debate. Subject—"Resolved, That love is a stronger passion than anger." After several spirited speeches on both sides, the decision was rendered in favor of the affirmative.

Subject for next public debate is "Resolved, That a system of compulsory education is established."

W. P. Roll, President.

J. W. Bishop, Secretary.

Onions sent at the Red Front.

Chickens and turkeys wanted at the Red Front.

Where is the best place to sell my produce? At the Red Front, of course.

All kinds of job work done at this office on short notice and at prices that defy competition.

Mr. J. W. Ford has commenced the erection of two frame cottages on the vacant lot adjoining his dwelling.

Considerable improvements are going on in town with the approach of Spring and fair weather a number of new buildings will be erected.

Mrs. J. A. Glevins, of Rockport, had Saturday of pneumonia. A daughter of the family is lying quite low and is not expected to recover.

Mr. F. M. Heverin is making quite an addition to his building on Market street. He has added a story below and a story above, making it quite a roomy building.

—The largest and finest assortment of gent's and boys' spring clothing ever brought to this market, at R. P. Howe's.

We would advise parents of young ladies to look well to the hinges of their front gates, as the time approached when loves linger thereat.

We had the pleasure of a call from Mr. Ignatius P. Staterley yesterday.

Mr. Staterley is one of the land marks of Ohio county in the seventy-seventh year of his age. He is quite spry for one of his age and has fine prospects for at least a half score of years.

—The next of kin sent at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

—The new post office is to be located at the Red Front.

